Rehearsal checklist

Worksheet 5, Scientific Communication

Neudata Consulting Ltd · Version 1.0, November 2026

Before you rehearse

- State your main message in one sentence.
- Mark each slide: must keep, should keep, can cut.
- Practise your opening and your last sentence aloud.
- Practise any technical term or long number you find hard to say.
- Write the time you should reach at each section.

The six-minute round in trios

Minutes	Speaker	Listeners
0:00 to 2:00	Explain your slide using the four moves: what it shows, where to look, what you see, why it matters.	Listen. The timekeeper stops the speaker at 2:00.
2:00 to 3:00	Write down what you would change.	Complete the prompts below in silence.
3:00 to 5:00	Listen. Ask for clarification only.	Give feedback using the prompts.
5:00 to 6:00	Repeat your weakest part once.	Say whether it was clearer.

Feedback prompts, for each speaker

The main message I understood was:
I stopped following when:
The one change that would help most is:

Keep feedback on clarity and understanding. Do not comment on accent, looks or personality.